A Message from the President

Dear Colleague:

Welcome to Reynolds Community College, where outstanding careers get started! Like jazz and baseball, community colleges are a uniquely American invention. We occupy a pivotal role in our country’s educational system, enrolling over ten million students each year – nearly half of the nation’s undergraduates. We have expanded access to higher education at a much lower cost, making education accessible and attainable to communities once excluded from higher education. Community colleges have been referred to as “the great democratization of higher education” and have continued to evolve to better prepare students to be successful in the workforce, or to seamlessly transfer to a college or university – changing lives and livelihoods in the process. I truly believe that there is no more exciting and vital place in the entire higher education sector than the community college.

As Reynolds closes in on its 50th anniversary, it’s appropriate to look back at the nearly 350,000 students the college has served since 1972. But we also look forward to all the lives we’ve yet to transform... I am excited that you’ve chosen to join Reynolds for the next stage of your professional journey!

Sincerely yours,

In order to remain current, the Reynolds Full-time Teaching Faculty Employee Handbook treats most topics briefly and provides links to the Department of Human Resource Management's Policies and Procedures Manual, the Virginia Community College Policies Manual, as well as the college's Policies and Procedures. Additional links to other sources of information may be included. This Manual is updated as official policies change. The Department of Human Resource Management's Policies and Procedures Manual, the Virginia Community College Policies Manual, and the Reynolds Policies and Procedures Manual (located in the Reynolds Intranet) will serve as the authority in case of a disparity between the Manuals and the Reynolds Employee Handbook.

Section 1.0000

INTRODUCTION

Introduction to J. Sargeant Reynolds Community College

History of the College

J. Sargeant Reynolds Community College (Reynolds) is named in honor of the late Lieutenant Governor of the Commonwealth of Virginia, who championed legislation creating the state-supported community colleges. Opened in 1972 in temporary headquarters, the college is now a three-campus institution and the third largest in the 23-college Virginia Community College System. Reynolds serves the City of Richmond and the counties of Goochland, Hanover, Henrico, Powhatan, and Louisa. For more College history visit the website by clicking HERE.

Reynolds Leadership and Governance Structure

The leadership and governance structure at Reynolds Community College is designed to support a culture of shared leadership that through consensus develops, implements, monitors, and revises the college vision, mission, values, goals, and objectives. A culture such as the one envisioned is nurtured through a decision-making process that invites participation from multiple levels within the college. In addition, the structure is designed to enable college constituencies to participate in the development, approval, and implementation of college policies and procedures.

The structure is comprised of a series of committees, constituency groups, councils, task forces, and boards. Each serves a distinct purpose as described in this document. The overarching goal of the structure is to ensure that decisions are made that are in the best interest of the college and its students, that support the college's strategic plan, that maintain compliance with VCCS policy, and that promote accountability at all levels of the institution. A learner-centered, customer-focused organization such as Reynolds Community College requires that governance, management, and policy formation be inexorably linked. Additional Reynolds Leadership and Governance Structure information can be found on the Reynolds Intranet.

Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion at Reynolds

Reynolds Community College is committed to fostering, cultivating, and sustaining a culture of diversity, equity, and inclusion. In the fall of 2015, the Reynolds Diversity and Inclusion Committee (RDIC) was created and charged with identifying strategies, actions, programs and policies to help Reynolds build an inclusive college community and ensure that the demographic statistics of our faculty and staff reflect the demographic statistics of the student population that we serve. The arrival of a new college president in September 2018 afforded the committee an opportunity to review its mission and goals. Equity was added to the title of this committee with the enthusiastic support of the college president and to better reflect the college's commitment to equity and equality, thus insuring that everyone in the college community has access to a level playing field in order to reach their goals and ambitions. Additionally, the committee establishes annual goals and objectives, conducts regular assessments, and provides an annual report of progress to the VCCS chancellor, via the president. Additional information on Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion at Reynolds can be found by clicking HERE.

Constituency Groups

Upon hire, each employee becomes part of an employee constituency group. Constituency groups offer similar groups of employees the opportunity to come together as one voice to participate in policy making, offer input to college leadership, and develop and implement positive employee relations activities. Reynolds Community College employee constituency groups are established as follows:

- Professional and Administrative Faculty Senate (PAFS);
- Classified Council; and
- Faculty Senate.

Each constituency group has elected officers and a website presence on Reynolds Intranet. Contact from the constituency group leaders is primarily handled via email. Please visit your respective group's website and become familiar and engaged with the activities and members of your constituency group. More information on each Constituency Group can be found on the Reynolds Intranet.

Councils, Committees, and Taskforces

A culture such as the one embodied is nurtured through a decision-making process that invites participation from multiple levels within the college. In addition, the structure is designed to enable college constituencies to participate in the development, approval, and implementation of college policies and procedures. Academic Calendar, Instructional Days, etc.

In accordance with VCCS policy, the contract year for teaching faculty extends from August 16 to May 15. The academic year, exclusive of summer session, consists of 180 faculty workdays, which include 150 instructional days, 10 days of instructional evaluation (exams), and 20 in-service and research days. Full-time teaching faculty are expected to report to work and fully participate in instructional days, in-service days, and faculty research days.

The summer session consists of ten weeks of instruction, including instructional evaluation (exams). The last day of summer session should occur prior to August 1 whenever possible. The summer session will utilize class meeting times that are structured so as to provide for the same total number of minutes of instruction per credit hour as is required by VCCS policy during fall or spring semesters.

If inclement weather or other emergencies result in full-day or partial day closings for the college on instructional days, the Vice President of Academic and Student Affairs will provide guidance to Deans and other academic leaders regarding class make-up times. Deans and other academic leaders are responsible for conveying this information to their full-time and part-time teaching faculty. Policy guidance can be found at:

VCCS Policy 5.7, Academic Calendar

Reynolds Policy 4-29, Academic Calendar

Minutes of Instruction

All courses for which credit is offered will provide 750 minutes of instruction, or the equivalent, per course contact hour. The required minutes of instruction may be provided through classroom instruction, appropriate laboratory hours, and appropriate outside projects. These techniques may be used individually or in combination to accomplish the goals of the course.

In addition to the 750 minutes of instruction per course contact hour, a minimum of one academic hour (50 minutes) of scheduled evaluation or examination time per semester credit hour will be scheduled for each course, not to exceed a total of three academic hours (150 minutes) per course. Reynolds Policy 2-4, Actual Minutes of Instruction provides additional information and guidance on minutes of instruction for faculty.

Syllabus Preparation and Posting

Reynolds Community College requires all full-time and part-time faculty members to generate a course syllabus for each course taught each semester. A copy of the course syllabus must be posted to the college's learning management system, Canvas, for each class taught each semester with a copy sent to the academic school office prior to the first day of instruction.

A course syllabus is an outline of a specific plan for conducting instruction in a course developed by the faculty member teaching the course. The course syllabus will inform the student about the objectives to be achieved, the topics that will be covered, how the course is going to be conducted, student responsibilities, attendance, assignments, and other requirements of the course, to include how grades will be determined. Teaching faculty are responsible for the development of the course syllabus and must ensure that each student receives the syllabus at the first meeting of the course. Moreover, teaching faculty must ensure that all students understand the syllabus and should be available to answer student questions accordingly. Use the Reynolds Syllabus Template as a guide to develop your course syllabus.

Use of Learning Management System and other Instructional Technologies

Canvas is a web-based learning management system that allows faculty to put information about their classes on the Internet so their students can access this information from any computer with access to the web. The minimum posted requirements includes: the course syllabus, the instructor's office hours and specific course assignments. Some instructors may also place lecture notes or full lecture presentations on this web-based site.

Canvas also includes tools to make email communication with students easier. Other features include online discussion boards where you can set topics for collaborative discussion and a "digital drop box" where students can post assignments for you to grade. Other tools include the capability to administer online quizzes and tests, as well as an online grade book.

Teaching faculty are expected to participate in Canvas training so that they are able to post their syllabus and grades. Faculty are expected to use Canvas features that will add instructional value to their courses. Canvas training and training for other instructional technologies is coordinated by the Manager of Technology Training and announced prior to the beginning of each semester.

Grades Plan and Posting of Grades

All grades, grade reports, and records will be maintained and input in a timely manner into a secure student information system using procedures that protect the integrity and confidentiality of these records and reports. These grades, grade records and reports will be maintained and destroyed in accordance with Reynolds Policy 4-38, Record Retention and Disposition.

NOTE: Faculty should not post student grades publicly. The grades of A, B, C, D, P and S are passing grades. Grades of F and U are failing grades. Students should be advised that grades of less than C are normally not accepted for transfer.

Explanation of Grades: The quality of performance in any academic course is reported by a letter grade. These grades denote the character of work and are assigned grade points as follows:

- A = Excellent 4 grade points per credit
- B = Good 3 grade points per credit
- C = Average 2 grade points per credit
- D = Poor 1 grade point per credit
- F = Failure 0 grade point per credit
- I = Incomplete No grade point credit.

The incomplete (I) grade is used for verifiable unavoidable reasons. Since the I grade extends enrollment in the course, requirements for satisfactory completion will be established through student/faculty consultation and documented on the Incomplete ("I") Grade Agreement form, Reynolds form 11-0018.

Courses for which the grade of I has been awarded must be completed by the end of the subsequent semester (excluding summer) or another grade (A, B, C, D, F, P, R, S, U, or W) must be awarded by the instructor based upon course work that has been completed. The Grade Change form - Reynolds Form No. 11-0019 is used to change the "I" to the final grade. Faculty are encouraged to review Reynolds Policy 2-6, Grades Plan and Reynolds Policy 2-3, Public Posting of Grades by Faculty for a full understanding of the Reynolds grading policies.

Academic Program Assessment and Evaluation

Academic Program evaluation and review is an ongoing and continuous process at Reynolds Community College and serves to underscore the importance of assessing student learning at the program level. Program evaluation at Reynolds consists of an annual Program Health Review for all programs and a 5-Year Curriculum Review conducted for academic programs on a rotating basis. Program evaluation is one facet of assessment at the college-level that helps Reynolds continue to focus on and enhance quality and effectiveness in academic programs—the foremost goal being to improve student learning. Quality and effectiveness can be seen in a Reynolds program that:

- is consistent with the college’s mission;
- has clearly defined student outcomes it intends to produce;
- uses the best combination of learning experiences to help each learner achieve these outcomes;
- includes an assessment process that shows whether the outcomes are being achieved; and
- uses the findings of assessment to improve program effectiveness.

Teaching Faculty/Program Heads, Associate Deans, and the Deans play an integral part of academic program planning, assessment and evaluation, under the direct guidance of the Vice President for Academic and Student Affairs.

Faculty link content from their course with the content from the partnered course, creating opportunities for shared themes, shared goals, and shared activities and assignments. Students who perceive themselves as members of a community tethered to their college experience are more likely to be successful in their courses; to develop, pursue, and achieve meaningful educational goals; and to graduate and transfer (or to find placement in the workforce commensurate with their new skills). Learning Communities and LC-related pedagogies and strategies are viewed by the college as an important toolset for achieving Reynolds goals and objectives relating to Student Success. The purpose of the Learning Community Team is to plan, develop, promote, monitor, and generally encourage assigned programs, initiatives, and activities focusing upon strategies for improving student engagement, retention, persistence, and success by way of learning communities and LC-related strategies at the college. Additional information regarding Learning Communities is found on the Reynolds website.

Distance Education Courses

The Center for Excellence in Teaching and Learning provides the option to take courses in a variety of settings and through alternative delivery methods that allow access to instruction from the home, office, off-campus sites throughout the state, and from a desktop or laptop computer wherever there is Internet access. The instructor and the student create their own classroom using various media, including television, computers, telephones, CD's and audiotapes. These options are designed to increase access to educational opportunities for students who have work schedules, family responsibilities, or other demands that make it difficult to attend traditional on-campus classes. Reynolds Online provides information on getting started for online learning.

Retirement Benefits

Retirement Benefits – All full-time employees are eligible for membership in the Virginia Retirement System (defined benefit plan). Employees become vested with the accumulation of five (5) years of credited state service.

Full-time employees are vested with the accumulation of five (5) years of credited state service. A vested Plan 1 member is eligible to receive a reduced retirement benefit at age fifty-five (55) with at least five (5) years of state service. Plan 1 employees can receive a reduced benefit as early as age fifty (50) with at least ten (10) years of state service. Plan 1 employees can retire with unreduced benefits at age fifty (50) with at least thirty (30) years of state service or age sixty-five (65) with at least five (5) years of state service.

A Plan 2 employee may receive a reduced retirement benefit at age sixty (60) with at least five (5) years of service. The reduction is based on whether the member is closer to:

- full Social Security retirement age or
- the first date on which the member would have completed thirty (30) years of service and the age plus service equal ninety (90).

VRS Plan 1- Employee Paid and Employer Paid: You are covered under the provisions of the VRS Plan 1 if your membership date is before July 1, 2010. You may be an active or deferred member. You are a deferred member if you are not currently working in a covered position but have not withdrawn your funds and have service credit in VRS or an account balance in an optional retirement plan as of June 30, 2010. If you are a deferred member and return to covered employment, you will be rehired under Plan 1.

The VRS Plan 1 is a defined benefit plan. A defined benefit plan provides a lifetime monthly benefit in retirement based on your age, total service credit and average final compensation at retirement. The monthly retirement benefit is determined by formula that includes age, years of creditable service, and average final compensation based on thirty-six [36] consecutive months of the employee's highest annual salary.

You contribute 5 percent of your compensation each month to your member contribution account through a pre-tax salary reduction. Your contributions are tax-deferred until you withdraw them as part of your retirement benefit or as a refund.

Your employer makes a separate contribution to VRS for all covered employees. VRS invests contributions to provide for your future benefit payment.

VRS Plan 2-Employee Paid and Employer Paid: You are covered under the provisions of the VRS Plan 2 if your membership date is July 1, 2010 or later. If you were previously employed in a covered position and withdrew your funds, you will be rehired under Plan 2 if you return to covered employment with no service credit in VRS or no account balance in a Virginia optional retirement plan.

The VRS Plan 2 is a defined benefit plan. A defined benefit plan provides a lifetime monthly benefit in retirement based on your age, total service credit and average final compensation. The monthly retirement benefit is determined by formula that includes age, years of creditable service, average final compensation sixty [60] consecutive months of the faculty member's highest annual salary. For additional information you can access the following link: <http://www.varetire.org/members/benefits/defined-benefit/index.asp>

You contribute 5 percent of your compensation each month to your member contribution account through a pre-tax salary reduction. Your contributions are tax-deferred until you withdraw them as part of your retirement benefit or as a refund.

Your employer makes a separate contribution to VRS for all covered employees. VRS invests contributions to provide for your future benefit payment.

VRS Hybrid Plan - Employee Paid and Employer Paid: The VRS Hybrid Plan will apply to most members hired on or after January 1, 2014, and current employees who elected to opt into the plan during a special election window from January 1, 2014 through April 30, 2014. The VRS Hybrid Retirement Plan combines the features of a defined benefit plan and a defined contribution plan. Under the defined benefit component, the retirement benefit is determined by a formula based on your age, years of credible service and average final compensation. This benefit is paid monthly after you retire. Average final compensation is the average of your 60 consecutive months of highest credible compensation as a covered employee. Under the defined contribution component, the retirement benefit is determined by the amount of contributions and net investment earnings on contributions. You select a distribution option at retirement.

You contribute 5 percent of your compensation each month to your hybrid account through a pre-tax salary reduction. Your contributions are tax-deferred until you withdraw them as part of your retirement benefit or as a refund.

Workers' Compensation

Non-Emergencies - when an employee (full time or part-time; adjunct faculty or wage/hourly) is injured on the job, the supervisor must ensure that the employee receives proper medical treatment to include first aid. In the event of a non-emergency injury, the supervisor's next step is to contact the Reynolds Worker's Compensation Coordinator by telephone (804) 523-5875 to report the injury. Then, the supervisor MUST complete the Accident Report of Workers' Compensation Claim Form and FAX to Reynolds Human Resources at (804) 523-5108 within twenty-four (24) hours of the injury. If first aid is not sufficient, the Reynolds Worker's Compensation Coordinator will immediately provide the employee with a panel of at least three (3) physicians from which to choose one as their authorized treating physician for medical care. As stated in the Virginia Workers' Compensation Act, the agency/college must provide an injured worker with medical treatment. Therefore, the purpose of the panel is twofold: to place the costs of medical care and treatment on the employer and to restore the employee's good health so that the employee may return to employment as quickly as possible.

Emergencies - in a life-threatening emergency situation the supervisor must seek the necessary medical treatment for the injured employee at the nearest medical service provider by the quickest means available (ambulance, rescue squad, etc.). In a non-life threatening, but still emergency situation, supervisors are to ensure that the injured employee obtains treatment from the nearest emergency medical service provider (emergency room, Patient First, etc.). After the emergency situation has ended and the employee has received emergency medical attention, the supervisor's next step is to contact the Reynolds Worker's Compensation Coordinator by telephone (804) 523-5875 to report the injury. Then, the supervisor MUST complete the Accident Report of Workers' Compensation Claim Form and FAX to the Reynolds Office of Human Resources at (804) 523-5108 within twenty-four (24) hours of the injury, and, the Reynolds Worker's Compensation Coordinator will immediately provide the employee with a panel of at least three (3) physicians from which to choose one as their authorized treating physician for medical care that the injured employee will use after treatment by the emergency room, Patient First, etc.

How to Report a Work-related Accident, Injury or Illness and Timely Submission - The employee must IMMEDIATELY report all work-related injuries to his or her supervisor. The supervisor must contact the Reynolds Worker's Compensation Coordinator by telephone (804) 523-5875 to report the injury. Then, the supervisor MUST complete the Employee Accident Form and FAX to Reynolds Human Resources within twenty-four (24) hours of the injury.

IMPORTANT: In the event that the supervisor is not present in the work area at the time of the injury, any available college employee should provide immediate assistance to the injured employee, and the available employee must then contact the supervisor to inform him/her of the accident/injury. If the Department of Police is notified and responds to the scene of the accident then they are required to complete a "police/security incident" report and forward a copy to the Office of Human Resources; however, the available college employee or the injured employee is the person responsible for informing the supervisor of the accident/injury within 24-hours.

Workers' Compensation Benefits and Adjusted Pay Procedures – upon receipt of the Employee Accident Form, the Reynolds Worker's Compensation Coordinator will send a comprehensive email to the injured full-time or part-time employee, supervisor, and department manager explaining additional injury reporting procedures and possible benefits to expect with an accepted workers' compensation claim. Generally, workers' compensation benefits pay only a portion of the injured full-time employee's weekly earnings, and may require the full-time employee to use their accrued sick leave until a decision is reached regarding the workers' compensation claim. Part-time college workers are not provided with replacement income, but may be eligible for limited medical benefits as determined by the Commonwealth's workers' compensation provider (Manage Care Innovations or MCI) and the Commonwealth's Worker's Compensation Commission. At any rate, the full-time and/or part-time employee will receive correspondence from the MCI Benefits Coordinator, via U.S. Mail to the home address, regarding the acceptance or denial of the workers' compensation claim.

Payment of Benefits - payment of all medical expenses arising out of the injury will be made directly to the medical provider or hospital at the prevailing community rate. Should the authorized treating physician refer the employee to a specialist, payment will be made directly to the specialist at the prevailing community rate or contracted Preferred Provider Organization (PPO). Supervisors and employees should direct questions regarding the payment of benefits to the Reynolds Worker's Compensation Coordinator at (804) 523-5875.

Additional information regarding Worker's Compensation can be found at DHRM Policy 4.60, Workers' Compensation and Reynolds Policy 3.35, Workers' Compensation and Employee Return to Work Program.

In compliance with Section 703 of Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, the college shall not tolerate any verbal, nonverbal, or physical behavior that constitutes sexual misconduct (sexual harassment or sexual violence) by employees in connection to their employment. Furthermore, sexual assault is a violation of the Code of Virginia.

In compliance with the Equal Protection Clause of the United States Constitution, discrimination based on factors such as one's sexual orientation or parental status shall not be tolerated.

The college prohibits the use of family medical history or genetic information in making decisions related to any terms, conditions, or privileges of employment in compliance with Title II of the Genetic Information Non-Discrimination Act of 2008 (GINA).

As an employee of Reynolds Community College, you are required to report allegations of discrimination to the College's Equal Employment Officer:

Sexual Discrimination and Other Unlawful Harassment

Reynolds Community College is committed to maintaining an academic and work environment that creates the freedom for each individual to live, think, act, work, study, and speak without fear of physical, emotional, and psychological harm.

In compliance with Section 703 of the Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, the college will not tolerate any verbal, nonverbal, or physical behavior that constitutes sexual misconduct by employees in connection to their employment. Furthermore, sexual assault is a violation of the Code of Virginia.

In order to assure that sexual misconduct is precluded, the college strongly encourages individuals who believe they have experienced sexual misconduct to report the alleged misconduct according to the procedures described in Section

IV of this policy. Additionally, personnel with supervisory responsibility and classroom instructors are required by federal law to take immediate and appropriate action when incidents of sexual misconduct or possible incidents of sexual misconduct are brought to their attention. Situations of an emergency nature should be reported immediately to the Department of Police or by calling 5-911.

Training is provided via Professional Development and Renewal to educate employees in the recognition and prevention of illegal workplace harassment and to provide an effective means of eliminating such harassment from the workplace. Moreover, the Commonwealth of Virginia requires re-training once every two (2) years in the Prevention of Sexual Harassment, however at Reynolds training is required at a minimum of once per year.

Additional information regarding training opportunities can be located on the PD&R website. Policy guidance regarding sexual discrimination and other unlawful harassment can be found in Reynolds Policy 4-17, Title IX, Sexual Misconduct and DHRM Policy 3-35, Civility in the Workplace.

Consensual Relationships

Consenting romantic and/or sexual relationships where one position has authority over another position (i.e., faculty and student, staff and student, supervisor and supervisee) are prohibited at Reynolds. Other romantic and/or sexual relationships between faculty and student, or staff and student (where no instructional relationship exists); faculty and faculty; staff and staff; or faculty and staff; are strongly discouraged and deemed unwise.

If a romantic relationship occurs, it must be consensual; however, even though the relationship is consensual it can raise serious concern about the validity of the consent, conflicts of interests, bias, ethics, and favoritism, and may become sexual misconduct which could lead to formal disciplinary action, including termination of employment. The college's EEO Officer is available for advice and guidance regarding this matter. Additional information can be found in Reynolds Policy 4-17, Title IX, Sexual Misconduct.

Disciplinary Process

The purpose of this section is to set forth procedures to address unacceptable behavior, conduct, and related employment problems in the workplace, or outside the workplace when conduct impacts an faculty member's ability to do his/her job and/or influences the agency's overall effectiveness.

Consistent with the Commonwealth's workplace standards, Reynolds strongly encourages the practice of "Progressive Discipline." This step-by-step process of applying discipline ensures that every faculty member is provided with the guidance and means to succeed in their assigned position, and also ensures that the faculty member is provided with "Due Process" in each step along the way. Due process is defined as, "providing [real] opportunity to present objections to the [intended] personnel action."

Disciplinary actions under the practice of "Progressive Discipline" may include, but are not limited to:

1. Informal Action – on the spot feedback from Supervisor to Faculty Member.
2. Informal Meeting – private, behind closed door meeting with Supervisor and Faculty Member.
3. Informal Meeting – private, behind closed door meeting with Supervisor and Faculty Member along with the issuance of a Counseling Memorandum.

4. Formal Meeting with Supervisor and Employee – private, behind closed door formal meeting with Supervisor and Faculty Member to issue Letter of Reprimand. (A member of Human Resources may be invited to attend this meeting).
5. Formal Meeting with Supervisor and Employee – private, behind closed door formal meeting with Supervisor, Faculty Member, and a member of Human Resources, in order to initiate more serious disciplinary action.

NOTE: Consistent with VCCS Policy 3.12, Faculty Sanctions, certain behaviors or faculty member actions may warrant immediate removal from the workplace and may not include some progressive discipline action steps. However, the Office of Human Resources will ensure that every attempt is made to provide the employee with due process in these extraordinary circumstances.

Additional information can be found in VCCS Policy 3.12, Faculty Sanctions

Employee Relations

LEAP Program – there are ten (10) Learning Environment principles that comprise the values of our college. Individuals can acknowledge those that best demonstrate the Learning Environment principles with a LEAP Award (Learning Environment Awards Program) – redeemable any time at any campus business office for a $5 Wawa gift card. Each month, all recipients are entered into a drawing for a monthly grand prize. Learn more on the Reynolds Community College website or speak with a Reynolds Cabinet member.

Resolving Employee Relation Disputes – the college strongly believes that workplace disputes should be resolved at the lowest level of the organization. Therefore, faculty members should immediately bring issues of concern to their respective supervisor to allow the supervisor the opportunity to resolve the issue. Faculty members are also encouraged to utilize the chain-of-command as indicated in the organizational structure (charts) to allow the leadership team within their department to hear their concern and resolve the issue.

When informal discussion of the matter does not resolve the issue, the employee may utilize the services and resolution tools provided by the Virginia Department of Human Resource Management's (DHRM) Office of Employment Dispute Resolution (EDR). The Office of Employment Dispute Resolution's mission is to provide state agencies and their employees with a broad range of workplace dispute resolution tools that assure solutions consistent with the Commonwealth's human resource policies and related law. EDR services include: toll-free telephone access to professional workplace counselors, one-on-one or group mediation, etc. Additional information can be found on the Department of Human Resource Management website.

Additionally, employees should feel free to contact the Reynolds Associate Vice President of Human Resources for guidance and questions regarding workplace concerns: 523-5877.

Faculty Grievance Procedure – The Faculty Grievance Procedure is defined in VCCS Policy 3.13 and includes an informal process and a formal process. Faculty must proceed through the informal process before utilizing the formal process. Faculty are also encouraged to make contact with the college's Associate Vice President of Human Resources prior to utilizing the faculty grievance procedure to ensure proper timeframes and steps are followed. A full description of the faculty grievance procedure is available in VCCS Policy 3.13, Faculty Grievance Procedure.

Reasonable Accommodation

A reasonable accommodation is any modification or adjustment to a job or the work environment that will enable a qualified applicant or employee with a disability to participate in the application process or to perform essential job functions. Reasonable accommodation also includes adjustments to assure that a qualified individual with a disability has rights and privileges in employment equal to those of employees without disabilities.

In the majority of situations, providing a reasonable accommodation is simple, quick and inexpensive. Additionally, requests for accommodation must be considered on a case-by-case basis, and, in the majority of cases, can be resolved between employee and supervisor. To handle matters of reasonable accommodation, employees and supervisors should first review Reynolds Policy 3-11, Reasonable Accommodation and then contact the Reynolds Associate Vice President of Human Resources if there are additional questions at 523-5877.

Such annual training is required by the VCCS and the Virginia Information Technology Agency (VITA) of all employees of the Commonwealth of Virginia. The training provides important reminders of the risks and responsibilities inherent in the use of information technology, including every employee's responsibility for ensuring the safe use of college technology resources, protection against computer viruses, identity theft and related cyber security threats, and other issues. The Department of Technology (DOT) requires each full-time and part-time employee to participate in technology security awareness training; this annual requirement is managed by the Department of Technology and employees and their supervisors will be directly contacted by DOT via email.

Employees of the college may use all of the resources found in the libraries on each of the college campuses. An employee ID card will be necessary to check out books, and all employees must follow the same guidelines and rules for library usage as other library patrons. More detailed information can be found at library.reynolds.edu

The college provides technical support to college employees for the college provided email, Voice Over IP (VOIP) telephones, and any hardware owned by the college, as well as software and database applications managed by the college and the Virginia Community College System, such as the PeopleSoft Student Information System (SIS), Blackboard, and the Administrative Information System (AIS). Parking and Parking Tags at Reynolds

Parking Tags

The Department of Police issues faculty and staff parking tags. Parking tags should hang from your review mirror when parking on Reynolds property with the front of the tag (logo and number) facing your windshield. Please remove the tag while operating your vehicle. Virginia law prohibits driving with dangled objects in the review mirror. Parking tags are assigned for the duration of your employment with the college. Each employee will be assigned only one tag. However, you are to register your primary and secondary vehicle on-line by completing the Reynolds Parking Decal Application form. Your parking tag will be sent to you via inter-college mail.

Downtown Campus Parking (w/ ID Cards)

Student parking is located within the Downtown Campus parking deck located off North 8th Street behind the Downtown Campus building. Faculty and staff parking is located at the Navy Hill parking deck located immediately adjacent to the Philip Morris parking deck off Navy Hill Drive. The hours of operation for both parking decks are 7:30 a.m. until 10:30 p.m., Monday thru Friday and 8:00 a.m. until 4:00 p.m. on Saturday (subject to change based on semester to semester class schedules).

Additional parking is available in lots A and B on 8th Street just east of the I-64 overpass. A current student decal or employee permit is required when parking in either lot.

Access to both the Downtown Campus (DTC) parking deck and the Navy Hill parking deck is obtained through the use of your College ID card. Each ID card is encrypted with specific information relative to the user when it is issued and is downloaded into the college's parking database system. Once your ID card has been issued, it takes approximately 24 to 48 hours to become activated and available for use in the parking deck.

To enter either parking deck, you will need to pull into one of the designated entrance lanes and stop at the card reader/ticket dispenser station. You will need to swipe your ID card thru the magnetic card reader or tap the reader. In a matter of seconds, the information is read and the gate should automatically open and record your entrance into the deck.

Once you have successfully entered the parking deck, you may park in any authorized parking space. When you are ready to leave the parking deck, you will need to swipe your card thru the magnetic reader or tap reader (you must use the same process that you used when you entered the deck) to exit from the deck.

The card access system must show an entrance and an exit for your ID card or you will be unable to enter the deck upon your next visit.

Your ID card will only allow you one access at a time. Your card should not be used by any other individual. These actions may result in your inability to utilize your card for your own personal use. The access system records all transactions and maintains an active file on all cards that have access to the parking deck. Parking in the deck is a privilege and can be suspended or denied due to misconduct or failure to follow parking regulations.

In the event you lose your ID card, the lost card will be deactivated and will need to be replaced with a new card. If you relocate your old card and try to use it to get into the parking deck, it will not work. This will also show up on your record and the old ID card will need to be collected.

For additional information regarding Student and College Personnel ID cards please review Reynolds Policy 4-40, Student and College Personnel and ID Cards.

If you experience problems with your ID card allowing you to enter and/or exit either parking deck, please contact the cashier on duty at (804) 523-5465 or the Parking Deck Supervisor at (804) 523-5471.

No overnight parking is permitted.

Downtown Campus Parking (w/o ID Cards)

All individuals who do not have a current activated college ID (i.e. visitors, distance education students, enrolling students, etc.) will be required to pull a ticket from the ticket dispensing machine located in an entry lane. The ticket pulled from the machine will be time and date stamped. Upon preparing to leave the parking deck, these individuals will need to have their ticket validated in order to avoid any parking fees.

The Department of Police is the only location with the authority to validate these tickets. There will be isolated times during the beginning of each semester and for special events that other departments will have the ability to validate tickets. These instances will be handled and directed by the Parking Services Supervisor.

The Department of Police for the Downtown Campus is located on the 1st floor in room 123. If no one is in the office, the individual should contact the Campus Police Dispatcher at (804) 523-5219 and they will dispatch an Officer to meet the individual. All individuals will be required to present a valid picture ID and for the Officer in order to receive a validation sticker. Each individual will also be asked the nature of their business. Once the ticket is validated, the individual will need to present it to the cashier when exiting the parking deck.

If the individual fails to have their ticket validated, they will be presented with three (3) options.

Option 1 - The individual will be allowed to back up if there are no more than 3 cars behind them and return to the Department of Police office to have their ticket validated.

Option 2 - The individual will be charged in accordance with the posted parking fee schedule based on the length of their stay.

Option 3 - In the event the individual does not have sufficient funds to pay the calculated parking fees, they will be required to complete a Customer Shortage form. The individual will need to present their driver's license to the cashier in order to complete the form. The individual will have five (5) days in which to pay the shortage or it will be placed on their student account.

The submission, scheduling and monitoring of all work order requests and preventive maintenance tasks are handled through the college web-based work order system. The work order system is designed to separate each work order request according to the requested division. For example, all work orders for the Downtown Campus custodial department will be assigned only to that department. Additional information required with the completion of a work order request includes priority level, description of request, specific location, etc. Upon submission by the end user, the Work Order System will send an e-mail to the supervisor responsible for the campus department so it can be assigned to a technician in a timely fashion depending on the urgency of the request. A work order request may be submitted via the following link: Maintenance Request Form or you may contact the Facilities Management and Planning Department at (804) 523-5790 or 523-5791.

Other Important Matters to the Full-time Faculty Member

Use of College Facilities by External Groups

The primary purpose of Reynolds facilities is to support the college's instructional and student services programs. Normally, our facilities will be in use for the day and evening programs of the college for six days per week (Monday through Saturday). Credit classes, non-credit classes, student life activities, student club and organization activities, student extracurricular activities, faculty/staff activities, and governing board and advisory committee activities are the highest priorities for the use of college facilities.

Insofar as possible and practicable, the facilities may be available for use by external groups provided that events do not interfere with the college's instructional and student services programs. External groups may be charged a facilities rental fee and applicable service fees.

The facilities rental office serves as a single point of contact for all external groups, and coordinates all arrangements with the appropriate campus, division, and department contacts. Any college employee receiving inquiries about facility use will refer the external group to the facilities rental office. The facilities rental office will ensure that fee policies are consistently applied and that the use of facilities is appropriately coordinated with the relevant campus contacts. Reynolds Policy 4-11, Event Planning and Facilities Rental Management provides additional guidance on event planning and facilities rental at Reynolds.

Uniforms

It is the college's intent to ensure that designated employees engaged in custodial services, maintenance, grounds, and Department of Police activities on the campuses can be easily identified by their coworkers and by the college's faculty, staff, students, and the general public as needed for assistance. To achieve this goal, Reynolds has instituted a uniform policy for those employees assigned to the above departments. Reynolds Policy 3-24, Employee Uniforms provides guidance on employee uniforms.

Illness and Death Acknowledgements

The Office of the President and Reynolds Human Resources should be notified as soon as possible in the event of hospitalization or death of an employee, family member, or other individual with an affiliation to the college. The supervisor should contact the Associate Vice President of Human Resources directly to provide the necessary information.

SERVING OUR STUDENTS

Working with Students at Reynolds

Services of the Offices of Enrollment Management

The Office of Enrollment Management provides leadership and collaboration of strategic efforts to stabilize and grow enrollment. Enrollment Management examines the various phases of the student lifecycle and works with internal and external stakeholders to identify and maximize opportunities that positively impact recruitment, retention and completion in the Reynolds service region. Enrollment Management provides direct leadership to the offices and functions of Admissions, Financial Aid, Registrar, and Testing Services, at the Parham, Downtown and Goochland campuses.

Admissions Process and Procedures (Policy 1-11)

Reynolds Community College provides access to a college education for all individuals, provided they meet criteria and demonstrate the ability to benefit from a college education. The various types of individuals that may qualify for general admission to the college: high school graduates or the equivalent, non-high school graduates who demonstrate the ability to benefit, international students who meet certain visa criteria and college standards. Other students that may enroll include: students enrolled at another college who are interested in short-term enrollment (transient students), high school students that demonstrate college readiness and who have the appropriate permission from parents and school districts. Additional criteria may apply to specific programs. In addition, the college reserves the right to deny admission to students when it is not in the best interest of the institution, or who may pose a potential threat to the college. For information regarding admissions policies and its procedures review Reynolds Policy 1-11, Admissions.

Tuition (General, Senior Citizen, etc.)

Tuition is set annually by the State Board for Community Colleges. Information regarding the current year tuition may be obtained at the College's Business Office or on the College's website.

Student Attendance (Policy 1-3)

Students are responsible for their enrollment in a course and must comply with all institutional obligations and institutional deadlines before being enrolled in a course. Students wishing to drop from a course should visit the Registrar's Office or complete the transaction using the Student Information System at MyREYNOLDS by the published deadline. Students wishing to withdraw from a course or courses should complete the appropriate form by the published deadline to report their withdrawal. Students receiving financial aid, should consult with the financial aid office prior to submitting a withdrawal form. Completed withdrawal forms should be submitted in the Registrar's Office.

Students who do not submit the appropriate forms or attend classes within the guidelines outlined in this policy may have an adverse transaction occur on their record, which may include removal from the course, or a grade of W, F, or U in the course. An exception to these actions would occur if the student has contacted the instructor and provided a reason that is accepted by the faculty member.

Faculty members are expected to provide students with both the institutional and classroom attendance requirements for the course on the course syllabus. This includes distance learning courses. Attendance requirements should be reviewed with students during the first class meeting for the term. Faculty members are also expected to keep a daily record of attendance and should reconcile their class roster weekly through the first 15% of their course. In the case where a student is present in the class and not on an official class roster, the faculty member must refer that student to register online for that course. If this occurs after the last day to add a course, the student must submit a completed Late Add request form to the Registrar's Office, see Reynolds Policy 1-37, Late Registration and Reynolds Policy 1-3, Student Attendance for additional information.

Course Withdrawals (Policy 1-10)

After the Add/Drop period and within the first 60% of a semester or term, a student may withdraw from a course without academic penalty and receive a grade of W for each withdrawn course. After that time, students shall receive a grade of "F" except under mitigating circumstances that must be documented.

After the sixty percent (60%) point within a semester, term, or course, students may not withdraw and receive a 'W' without mitigating circumstances. Students who attempt to withdraw in the Student Information System (SIS) shall receive a grade of 'F'. In instances of mitigating circumstances, students may request a withdrawal after the sixty percent (60%) point within a term by submitting a request for late withdrawal. Examples of mitigating circumstances include extended absence due to medical reasons, extended absence due to family emergencies, or the like. Students must provide documentation that supports such a request. All requests for late withdrawals shall be approved by the Academic Standing Committee.

Late withdrawal requests may be granted for one or more courses within a term, based on the impact of extenuating circumstances on the student's course(s). Student academic performance in class prior to the student's last date of attendance may be considered in the decision regarding a late withdrawal request.

Late withdrawal requests must be submitted by the following dates:

- a. January 30th for the previous fall semester
- b. June 30th for the previous spring semester
- c. September 30th for the previous summer term

Course withdrawals should be presented in person or by the student's authorized representative. Reynolds Policy 1-10, Student Initiated Withdrawal From a Course\(s\) for additional information on course withdrawals, or procedure information.

Grading

Several policies guide the management of grades at the College. College faculty and staff should be informed of the following policies:

- Reynolds Policy 1-7, Incomplete Grade
- Reynolds Policy 2-6, Grades Plan

Effective Catalog Year (Policy 1-20)

The catalog that will be used to review a student’s progress toward completion of program requirements and certification for graduation will be the catalog in effect at the time of the student’s initial matriculation into the program or any subsequent catalog in effect during the time of the student’s enrollment in the program so long as:

- There has not been a break in enrollment at Reynolds for three consecutive semesters; or
- The catalog is no more than seven years old at the time of graduation.

In the event that these criteria have not been met, the following may occur, the catalog in effect at the time that the student returns to the College will be in effect. If the catalog is more than seven years old, then the current catalog, or any other catalog that is no more than seven years old becomes the catalog that is in effect. The catalog should be chosen by the student in consultation with the program head or curricular advisor; with the program head having the final determination of appropriate catalog year. Wherever possible, substitutions will be utilized to maximize the usage of previously-taken courses while maintaining the integrity of the degree. For more information regarding the procedures for selecting the appropriate catalog year, review Reynolds Policy 1-20, Effective Catalog Year or refer to the college catalog, under “Graduation Requirements and Procedures”.

Click HERE for additional information on all student services at Reynold or call (804) 523-5025.

Statement of Student Rights and Responsibilities

The statement of rights and responsibilities clarifies rights the student may expect to enjoy as a member of the student body of a community college and the obligations admission to the college places upon the student. Application for admission to a community college represents the prospective student's voluntary decision to participate in the programs offered by the institution pursuant to the policies, rules, and regulations of the community colleges and rules and regulations of the State Board for Community Colleges. In turn, college approval of that application represents the extension of a privilege to join the college community and to remain a part of it, so long as the student meets the required academic and behavioral standards of the college system. The current editions of the College Catalog and Student Handbook contain a statement on student rights and responsibilities. The statement on student rights and responsibilities can also be found on the Reynolds website.

Student Conduct (Policy 1-35)

Students are expected to obey the law, show respect for properly constituted authority, perform contractual obligations, maintain integrity and high standards in academic work, and observe a standard of conduct appropriate for the college. Proper conduct is expected while on campus, off campus at college leased or owned facilities, or attending activities that are sponsored, initiated, authorized, or supervised by Reynolds Community College.

Disciplinary action will be taken when any student, group of students, or student organization:

- Fails to observe the general standards of conduct or any specific policy, rule, regulation, or procedure adopted by the college.

The college reserves the right to take immediate action should the presence of the student on campus be considered a serious and substantial danger to the operation of the college or to the welfare of the college community.

Certain criminal or civil offenses, although not committed while a student is on campus, off campus at college-leased facilities, or attending any activities that are sponsored, initiated, authorized, or supervised by Reynolds Community College; or when representing the college, may by their very nature pose a serious and substantial danger to the college community. In such cases, the college reserves the right to take appropriate disciplinary action.

Persons not enrolled officially in the college, who by their actions on campus violate their status as invited guests, are subject to the relevant sanctions of the penal code of the Commonwealth of Virginia.

The academic grievance procedure must be initiated within thirty (30) calendar days after the official last day of instruction (including the exam period) for the semester or term in which the incident occurred. Non-academic grievances must be initiated within thirty (30) calendar days after the incident occurred. FINANCIAL OPERATIONS

Budget Preparation and Management

The operation of the college is funded by various revenue sources which include general funds from the Commonwealth of Virginia General Assembly; tuition and fees as approved by the General Assembly; grants from Federal, Commonwealth, and private sources; vending income; and locality contributions.

The college fiscal year is from July 1 through June 30. The college budget preparation process involves input from the college managers to their respective vice president or associate vice president. There are multiple reviews at various levels prior to the budget presentation to the Executive Cabinet of the college for discussion, revisions and final approval. The budget preparation process is managed by the Budget Manager.

Financial reports are provided monthly to college department managers and Executive Cabinet members for review. Each manager is required to review departmental records of budgetary actions, expenditure commitments, and expenditures to ensure funds are available in the departmental budget before initiating any procurement or personnel actions. The Budget Office provides assistance and training to the college department managers. All questions relating to budget and reporting should be directed to the Budget Manager. Additional information can be found on the Reynolds Intranet.

Travel Request, Travel Advance and Mileage Reimbursement

The college reimburses employees traveling on official college business for reasonable and necessary expenses incurred, subject to budget availability.

At the discretion of the college and/or department managers, stricter guidelines for enforcement of travel procedures and regulations may be imposed. Employees should check with their department managers prior to finalizing travel plans.

All travel is subject to the rules and regulations stipulated in the Commonwealth's Accounting Policies and Procedures (CAPP) Manual, Topic # 20335. The traveler must refer to the manual prior to making any travel arrangements. Travel made not in accordance with the manual will not be reimbursed. The Accounting office can provide additional assistance.

It is the traveler's responsibility to make all travel arrangements, which may include vehicle or alternate transportation reservations as well as lodging reservations. The traveler must make reasonable effort to secure the most cost beneficial means of travel for the college.

For State funds, Chrome River pre-approval is required for all overnight and/or out-of-town travel. The pre-approval should include lodging, transportation, meals, conference registration (even if prepaid) and any other travel costs or fees. For Local/Vending funds, all overnight and/or out of town travel, the college requires the traveler to complete the Chrome River pre-approval.

Form 32-0002 provides the traveler with an option to request a travel advance, registration fee or hotel deposit payment prior to the approved travel. Sufficient time must be allowed for the Accounting office to prepare a travel advance check and/or payments. Form 32-0002 can be found in the forms section on the Reynolds Intranet.

Travel involving four (4) or more employees (presenters as well as attendees) from the college to a single travel destination must be approved in advance by the college President. This includes events held in the Richmond area but excludes VCCS events which have a blanket approval to allow more than four (4) employees to attend the event.

If five (5) or more employees plan to attend the same training, seminar or workshop, the department must perform a cost benefit analysis to determine whether an on-site trainer is less costly than allowing the employees to attend the event. This includes events held in the Richmond area. The cost benefit analysis must be submitted to the Accounting department and the on-line Proposed Travel Form must be completed by each employee traveling. Approval by the college President is also required.

The college has specific reimbursement procedures which must be followed in order for travel reimbursement to be approved.

- State Funds – Chrome River is the college’s comprehensive travel expense reimbursement tool. This system allows college employees to manage pre-approvals, track expense reports, run reports, and submit and receive reimbursements in the most cost-effective, timely and efficient manner possible. Reynolds travelers who paid for pre-authorized business-related travel expenses with personal funds may be reimbursed in accordance with policy utilizing this system. Reimbursement requests should be submitted within 30 days from return of travel. All reimbursement requests must be accompanied by receipts and/or supporting documentation. Failure to include any required documentation may unnecessarily delay the reimbursement.
- Local/Vending Funds - Form 32-0001 – Travel Expense Reimbursement Voucher must be submitted to the employee’s supervisor within five (5) business days after the last day of travel. The supervisor must submit the signed and approved Travel Expense Reimbursement Voucher to the accounting department within three (3) business days of receipt from employee. The traveler is responsible for the legibility and completeness of Travel Expense Reimbursement Vouchers. Neglecting to examine and enter necessary information may result in the return of the unpaid vouchers to the traveler.
- The balance of any travel advance is due back to the college within 30 days after receipt of the advance.

Business travel mileage can only be reimbursed subject to availability of the departmental budget and approval of the department manager. Reimbursement is not allowed for commuting mileage.

Purchasing

There are specific policies and procedures for the purchase, receipt and distribution of all goods and services. The Shared Services Center Procurement Office is the coordinating and implementing office for the policies and procedures. Questions on obtaining goods and services should be directed to this office.

The goal of the college is to obtain the highest quality goods and services, at the lowest reasonable cost necessary to conduct the business of the college and to support the faculty, staff, and students in aid of the college's instructional, research, and public service programs.

All purchases must be processed electronically using the Commonwealth of Virginia's electronic procurement solution system (eVA) unless specifically exempted. Additional information can be found in the Financial Operations section of the Reynolds Intranet.

Small Purchase Charge Card (SPCC)

The college has established policies and procedures for use of a Small Purchase charge card. The use of the card streamlines the procurement and payment processes for small purchases generally (under $5,000). The charge card shall only be used to purchase low dollar goods and services within the established per transaction limitation of the users card.

SPCC purchases are limited to the single quote limit, which is $5,000 or less per transaction. All purchases on the small purchase charge card shall be placed in eVA. Order-splitting, for any reason, to facilitate the procurement of a good or service using the Charge Card is strictly forbidden. Each charge card user is required to reconcile and obtain approval of their monthly expenditures by the designated due date. Additional information can be found in the Financial Operations section of the Reynolds Intranet.

Institutional Memberships

Institutional and accreditation memberships are centrally funded in the membership budget. Requests for memberships are included during the annual budget development process. Individual or departmental memberships that do not benefit the college as a whole are funded from the departmental budget allocation based on availability. All questions relating to institutional memberships should be directed to the Budget Manager.

Receipt of Money

Employees receiving funds on behalf of the college must forward monies to a campus business office or to the Central Business office within 24 hours of receipt. Employees will be asked to provide the accounting information for which the funds are to be credited. If unknown, the business office staff will provide assistance.

Grants and Acceptance of Gifts

The college receives grants of funds from public and private sources to support its programs and services. The Grants office provides support to advance the college's goals through identification, cultivation, and solicitation of financial support.

Responsibility for the coordination of grant submissions and management of awards is through the grants administrator or through the executive director of the J. Sargeant Reynolds Community College Educational Foundation, when applicable.

Since some foundations and agencies consider only one proposal per institution within a given period, the need for such coordination is particularly important prior to contact with external sources. A database is maintained by the Grants office regarding prospective funding sources, as well as awarded grants, in order to avoid overlap of solicitations.

Faculty or staff seeking external funding should verify with the grants administrator that there is no duplication of contacts on behalf of the college.

Conflict of Interests

State employees are in a position of public trust and are not to accept gifts, gratuities, favors or rewards for any services performed in connection with State employment. In addition, it is unlawful for employees to solicit, offer, or accept money or anything of value in exchange for an appointment, promotion, or special privilege with the college or any other State agency.

Employees are prohibited from using information gained while performing their job to influence or further their own personal interests. In addition, employees that have the ability to perform procurement transactions are covered by the Ethics in Public Contracting Act ("Procurement Act"). Further information on this act can be obtained by contacting the Purchasing Manager.

The college requires also that its Officers and Directors complete and file Statement of Economic Interest forms on an annual basis. This is done to further reinforce the college's commitment to creating a "no conflict of interests" environment. Additional information can be found in the Financial Operations section of the Reynolds Intranet.
